DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-17, 29-33, drawn to a laparoscopic device having a generally elongate member, a needle carrying portion and a loop carrying portion.

Group II, claim(s) 18-28, drawn to a laparoscopic device having an elongate member and a loop carrying portion.

Group III, claim(s) 34-51, drawn to a laparoscopic needle delivery device having an elongate member, a loop carrying portion and a needle carrying portion.

Group IV, claim(s) 52-61, drawn to a method of ligating a tubular structure providing a length of filamentary material with one loop formed.

Group V, claim(s) 62-65, drawn to a method of forming an additional knot using a first instrument with a second elongate instrument to form the additional knot.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I, II and III do not share a common special technical feature because the common technical feature, an elongate member, a needle carrying portion and a loop carrying portion, in groups I, II and III are shown in US Patent No. 5,346,409 to Kuwabara et al.

Art Unit: 4166

(Kuwabara). Group IV and Group V share a common technical feature which is the filamentary material that is also found in Kuwabara. Therefore, they do not share a special common technical feature. Group I, II, III and V have a common technical feature, an elongate member, which is found in Kuwabara. Therefore they do not have a special common technical feature. Therefore, they do not have unity of invention.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species A: Fig. 1-3

Species B: Fig. 19

Species C: Fig. 20

Species D: Fig. 21

Species E: Fig. 22

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species A: Claims 1-17, 29-33

Species B: Claims 18-28

Species C: Claims 34-51

The following claim(s) are generic: There are no generic claims.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Species A, B and C share common technical features which are the elongate member, the needle carrying portion and the loop carrying portion that are found in Kuwabara. Therefore, Species A, B and C do not have a special common technical feature, therefore they do not have a unity of invention.

6. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
